1. SITUATION

Who are we? What has happened?

In January 2006 the British Parliament decided the deployment of over 4500 Troops to the south of Afghanistan. The intentions were to support US Troops in their effort to secure and stabilise the Helmand Province, which until this point was tightly controlled by the Taliban.

You are part of 2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment (Green Howards), deployed to Camp Bastion in the Helmand Province. You are tasked with driving out the Taliban Forces from the Region as well as supporting the local Civilian Population and Afghan National Army stationed in Area.

Thanks to our successful Operation last week, we managed to push back the Taliban forces to the western area of the valley. Our goal now is to capture their Cell Leader alive, in order to leave them leaderless, unorganised and weakened. If we manage to do this, it should give us the opportunity to critically cripple their forces and, with the help of the ANA, drive them completely out of the region. Let's get that Taliban Fucker!
