1. SITUATION

Who are we? What has happened?

We are a US special task force tasked with keeping the peace and balance of an Island state after an pirate Insurgency and following unrest.

The government decided to put up armed forces with US backed military aid in order to prevent another insurgency. However due to political conflicts on the island there is now a secondary faction claiming to truly represent the people , who also built up a sizeable military with help from china. This faction also granted china an airport to the south.

Since about 3 hours fighting started all over the island and now it appears that the split of faction is trying to seize control of the island by force.

The chinese may or may not be involved in this conflict.

The regular government asked that we help to stop the attacking faction and secure the highest ranking official.
